- ※② In case of dangerous situation such as flooded/damaged roads, high winds or heavy rain, parents/guardians can let your child stay at home. If you do so, let us know immediately.

【 On the way to school/back home 】

- If the weather warning a) on their way to school, or if the b) -situation happens on their way to/from school;
 - Go back home and stay at home
 - (however, if it seems safer at school rather than staying at home (in case that nobody at home), go to school and stay there.)
- If an earthquake occurs;
 - Evacuate to a safe place or an evacuation shelter(including some homes that could accept evacuees).
 - And then, evacuate to your home or school, whichever nearer to you.
 - ※①Please check “safe places” and “evacuation shelter (including homes that could accept evacuees)” on your way to school with your child/ren.
 - ※②If your child/ren evacuates to school, the school will take the same action as 【During staying at school】 as below.
- If a J-Alert is issued to this area;
 - Go into a nearby sturdy building immediately. If there is no building around, hide oneself or lie flat on the ground.

【 During staying at school 】

○If any of the weather warnings a) is issued or b) - e) situations happen while students are at school...

Upon securing safety, the school will dismiss children promptly, by handing them over to their parents or dismissing them all at once.

※① If you (parents/guardian) have received an advanced notice to pick up your child/ren, you should come and pick up your child/ren, even without any e-mail/phone call.

However, don't force yourself to come to school if you find any danger on your way to school. The school will keep students safe at school until you (parents/guardians) pick him/her up.

※②If your school informs you that all the students leave school at the same time, the dismissal time is as usual. (If the dismissal time is changed, your school will let you know.)
